

IABT Conference Announcement

The 2006 International Academy of Business and Technology (IABT) conference will take place at Hilton Hotel, Mystic, Connecticut, USA on 31st-June 3rd, 2006. The conference calls for papers on all functional areas of business: accounting, finance, marketing, management, management information systems, financial economics and political economy. It discusses the impact of globalization world wide on businesses, national economies, financial markets, the resulting marketing challenges, employment decisions, strategic management challenges, progress of transition economies and current challenges, information systems management and the impact on businesses, the merits of regional integration for international and interregional competitiveness, global marketing challenges, accounting and global responsibility, the effect of national and international culture and values on management of technology. On behalf of the Board of Directors of the International Academy of Business and Technology I invite you to participate at this 2006 IABT conference. Papers will be reviewed as soon as they are received. The deadline for abstracts/proposals is November 30, 2005. For detailed information on the conference and paper submission guidelines, please go to <http://www.interabt.org>.

Enquiries: chukwuogor-ndu@interabt.org; or chukwuogorc@easternct.edu

Yours sincerely,

Chiaku Chukwuogor-Ndu Ph.D.
Conference Program Chair
Department of Business Administration
Eastern Connecticut State University
83 Windham Street
Willimantic 06226 CT
USA